Online activities

Microsoft Teams has been set up and has been in use for the past few days. Information and some examples about your reading and book presentation project have been uploaded there.

You will also find a folder under the files tab with some shorter activities to complete including:

Reading task
Comprehension (RUAE)
Vocabulary task
Design task

Alternative activities

- 1) Read- everyday, as much as you can but try for at least 15 minutes. Books, Newspapers, Magazines etc. Talk about what you are reading with people in your household to practice your summarising skills and show your understanding
- 2) Write- Keep a diary of your life under lockdown. Write a little each day about how you are spending your time, what you are going to do when lockdown is lifted. Have you discovered that you've been taking anything for granted?
- 3) Vocabulary builder- Look up and learn the meaning of four new words a day. Try to work them into a conversation with someone in your household.
- 4) Audible are allowing young people free access to their library. If you prefer to listen instead of read, check with your parent or guardian if it alright for you to stream and listen to a book of your choice from the website below on your device. The tween section has a lot of interesting, new texts for you to choose from:
