Online activities

Pupils can work through the Boardworks Vietnam War unit if content is enabled. There are also 2 PowerPoints on Vietnam. Pupils can use the material provided to produce a project on the Vietnam War and also embark on further research using the internet or any other available sources.

A series of worksheets on the American Revolution are provided. Pupils can work through the tasks in these that are feasible and also refer to the general PowerPoint. This work can be done on any paper available as they don't have their jotters at home. Pupils can also produce a project on the American Revolution in general or any aspect of it that interests them using the materials provided plus research gleaned from the internet and any other resource that is available to them.
